- Formulate an assessment plan with the candidate.
- Review the candidate's logbook to ensure that they have been regularly employed on licensable work and have completed all the sections of the logbook outlined in IRSE Procedure LP01.
- Check that the candidate doesn't have a complaint on his licence and if s/he does report this to the AAM for advice on how to proceed.
- Check the authenticity and validity of all the performance and supporting evidence supplied by the candidate.
- Treat the assessment process as confidential.
- Refer to the AAM for support and advice.

4.3 Carrying out the Workplace Assessment

Assessors must not give training during an assessment although they can provide advice appropriate to the particular licence category.

If you are the Workplace Assessor you are required to:

- Review the assessment plan prior to start of assessment
- Review the candidates IRSE logbook to ensure that it is up to date and has been reviewed by their line manager
- Review the candidate's personal statement and supporting evidence
- Carry out the assessment as planned.
- Record observations of the assessment on the relevant part of the Competence Assessment Checklist (CAC).
- Record on the CAC the methods of assessment used during the assessment and follow the guidelines for evidence requirements.
- Make the assessment decision based upon the consistency of competence performance and the candidate's demonstration that they satisfy all the evidence criteria specified in the CAC.

- Record on the CAC the result of the workplace assessment and inform the candidate of this decision.
- Check the accuracy of the applicant's details on all the relevant assessment paperwork.
- Verify the identity of the candidate before conducting the assessment.

If the candidate is deemed ready for competence assessment you must supply the Competence Assessor with the:

- Approved Licence Application Form
- Competence and Assessment Checklist (CAC)
- The evidence the candidate supplies to support the assessment.

If the candidate is found to be "Not Ready" for competence assessment, then you must give feedback to the candidate that will leave them with a clear understanding about what they need to do to complete the assessment. This should be documented on the CAC. You should then send a copy of this to the AAM. The AAM will then inform the IRSE.

4.4 Carrying out the Competence Assessment

If you are the Competence Assessor you must:

- Arrange with the candidate when and where to carry out the assessment.
- Be in possession of the workplace assessment paperwork and the candidate's evidence portfolio, with adequate time to prepare for the competence assessment.
- Review the candidate's workplace assessment to confirm that it was adequate in scope, quality and quantity.
- Ensure that the workplace assessor has met the evidence requirements for each criteria.
- Review the candidate's IRSE logbook to ensure that they have been regularly employed on licensable work for an appropriate period of time, have completed all the sections identified for the candidate to complete, have no record of complaints / endorsements that would affect the licence assessment being undertaken, and to establish the extent of their underpinning knowledge.
- Confirm that the candidate has demonstrated the skills, attitude and underpinning knowledge to meet the requirements of the licence category.
- Complete the competence assessment checklist filling in all CA boxes.
- Verify the identity of the candidate before conducting the assessment.
- Ensure that any special needs the candidate are met.
- If pre-set question banks are used, they shall be kept secure and changed sufficiently frequently to ensure that their integrity is not compromised.

If you are the Candidate you must provide the Competence Assessor with a passport style .jpeg photograph (unless you already have a photo licence).

The Competence Assessor must then send all the completed documentation to the IRSE Assessing Agency Manager for a licence application to be made to the IRSE. This documentation must include:

- Competence and Assessment Checklist (CAC)
- Evidence list and evidence
- Approved Licence Application form
- A passport style 'jpeg photograph or a copy of their licence card
- copies of the required pages from the candidates IRSE log book

When the result of the assessment is "Not yet competent" you must indicate on the CAC the areas where the candidate did not achieve the required standard. You must give feedback to the candidate that will leave them with a clear understanding about what they need to do to complete the assessment. You must then send a copy of this documentation to the IRSE Assessing Agency Manager. The AAM will then inform the IRSE.

For support and advice the CA can contact the TM, IQA or AAM.

4.5 Use of Video Link During Assessments

Both the Workplace Assessor and Competence Assessor may carry out assessments via video link (e.g. Skype, FaceTime or another suitable application).

It is recommended that this is recorded and sent with the documentation to the AAM. An assessment must be recorded if requested by the IRSE Licensing Registrar or AAM. On request, the assessment shall be recorded in full (audio and video) in a standard format not requiring specialised software. The recording shall be retained in line with section 7 of this procedure and shall be made to the IRSE and auditors if requested.

Assessments by direct observation may be carried out using a video link. Approval must be given by the Assessing Agency Manager before the assessment of direct observation via video link takes place. When an assessment by direct observation is undertaken via video link a recording must always be made and sent with the documentation to the AAM. All recordings of directly observed assessments form part of the assessment records and will be kept by PM Training and Assessing Ltd in line with section 7 of this procedure and shall be made aware to the IRSE and auditors if requested.

Where necessary a recording of a practical task being performed may be made on site for the assessor to examine later. Approval of this must be given by the Assessing Agency Manager prior to the recording.

At the start of the assessment, the Assessor shall establish the candidate's identity using a verifiable ID document.

Where an assessment is to be conducted via video link, the documentation must still be available to the Assessor at least a week before the date of assessment, in electronic format.

The completed assessment documentation must clearly state that a remote video link was used.

4.6 Sending the Paperwork to the IRSE

If you are the AAM you are required to:

- Keep a copy of all the CACs from workplace and/or competence assessments where the result is Not Yet Competent, on file.

If the result of the competence assessment is competent you must:

- Ensure that all documentation is completed correctly, i.e. all sections are present and filled in, the WA and CA have signed and dated in the required places.
- Ensure that IQA sampling is carried out as set out in the Sampling Plan.

You must then submit the following documentation to the IRSE Licensing Registrar:

- a complete copy of the Competence Assessment Checklist,
- details of the supporting evidence

4.7 Issuing the Licence

The IRSE Licensing Register will review the paperwork and issue the licence to the IRSE Assessing Agency Manager. Upon receipt of the licence the AAM must:

- enter the details of the licence into the licensing computer database, and
- send the licence to the candidate

If you are the Candidate / Licence Holder you are required to enter the details of your licence in the Licence Details section of your logbook.

An IRSE licence is valid for a period of 10 years. The licence however will show a “valid to date” which will be for a period of up to 5 years. This date will be followed by a letter “S” or “R”.

If an “S” follows the validity date it denotes that the licence holder will need to undergo the surveillance process for the next assessment. See section 4.8

If an “R” follows the validity date it denotes that the licence holder will need to undergo a renewal assessment for the next assessment. See section 4.9

4.8 Surveillance Check

Licence holders will be subject to a surveillance check and interview by a Competence Assessor for each licence category they hold. This will take place 5 years after the initial assessment.

Successful completion of the surveillance check will allow the licence holder to maintain their IRSE licence for the full 10 year period. If the Competence Assessor feels that there is insufficient evidence to confirm satisfactory continuous competence then a full assessment (as per an initial application) will be required.

The Competence Assessor carrying out the surveillance will check that the licence holder's logbook has been regularly completed and that the licence holder is still carrying out licensable work. The Competence Assessor will also check that the candidate has had a Log book review in the previous 12 months.

The Competence Assessor will assess the licence holder using the current Competence Assessment Checklist for the category concerned. If this has changed from the version that the licence holder was originally assessed against then the Competence Assessor must ensure that the licence holder has maintained competence in line with any changes in the competence criteria.

If you are the Licence Holder you must fill in the personal statement boxes as a self check that you are still complying with the competence criteria and provide supporting evidence.

If you are the Competence Assessor you must complete the most recent version of the CAC from the IRSE website.

You must send the following paperwork to the IRSE AAM who will forward it to the IRSE licensing Scheme Registrar:

- The Competence Assessment Checklist
- Evidence list and supporting evidence.
- Approved Licence Application form
- A passport style .jpeg photograph if they want a new photo on their licence
- Copies of pages from the candidates' log book, as specified by the IRSE.

4.9 IRSE Licence Renewal

To continuously maintain an existing IRSE licence the competence assessment to renew a licence must take place at least 6 weeks before, the expiry date of the original licence. If the new licence is not issued by the IRSE before the expiry date the licence holder will not be considered competent to carry out licensable work between the expiry date of the original licence and the date when the IRSE issue the new licence. If you are a Licence Holder it is your responsibility to make sure that your licence is renewed before the expiry date.

If you are a Licence Holder wanting to renew an existing licence category you must demonstrate that you continue to meet the requirements specified in the competence standards for the particular licence categories. You will be required to demonstrate that you have been employed on licensable work over the past 5 years. Your logbook must be up to date and have been reviewed every year.

To qualify for the renewal of your licence, using the renewal process detailed below, you must have maintained an adequate record of your licensable work. If you have failed to adequately maintain your IRSE logbook a full initial assessment will be needed before your licence can be renewed.

You should complete a self-evaluation by completing the personal statement boxes on the CAC and cross-reference supporting evidence. They may also cross reference to relevant entries in their logbook.

The AAM will appoint a Competence Assessor to check this self-assessment for validity, authenticity, currency and sufficiency. The Competence Assessor will also check that your logbook is up to date. If self-assessment is successful then the competence assessor will carry out an assessment as if it was a workplace assessment, including observation, if required.

If self-assessment is not satisfactory then further evidence is required through a workplace assessment as per an initial assessment.

The level of detail recorded should be consistent with that of a workplace assessment (i.e. activity observed, equipment worked on, location etc.).

Where for any reason the Competence Assessor is not able to assess the performance criteria that must be assessed by direct observation, they may delegate this to a suitably approved Workplace Assessor who holds the relevant current occupational competence. In this case:

- The Competence Assessor must specify which performance requirements they wish to be observed. Where an observation has taken place the checklist should clearly show what was observed, where, and by whom.
- The Workplace Assessor must submit their assessment and any supporting evidence, clearly showing how the performance requirements were met, to the Competence Assessor before the competence assessment interview takes place.
- The competence assessor should clearly indicate on the checklist how all the performance requirements have been met, including any observed by the workplace assessor.

The Competence Assessment must be carried out within six months of the category expiring otherwise a workplace and competence assessment must be undertaken. If there is insufficient evidence for the Competence Assessor to confirm the competence of the applicant then full workplace and competence assessments in line with the initial application process need to be undertaken.

4.10 Lost, Stolen or Damaged Licenses

Following the loss, theft or damage of an IRSE Licence, the Licence Holder must request the IRSE AAM to arrange to re-issue of the licence. The AAM will then arrange a replacement licence through the IRSE Licensing Registrar. When receiving the new licence the licence holder should record the details of the replacement licence on the Licence Details Form in their IRSE logbook.

4.11 External Candidates

External candidates should approach the PM Training and Assessing Ltd AAM to arrange any workplace and / or competence Assessments. The AAM will undertake licensing and re-licensing of external candidates without prejudice, subject to the availability of suitable workplace and competence assessors.

4.12 Dealing with Candidates that Have Additional Training & Assessment Requirements Policy

PM Training and Assessing Ltd take a positive approach to providing a range of assessment strategies and variations in assessment methods to cater for candidates with Additional training and assessment requirements.

We will normally vary our assessment arrangements, where the standards permit, in order that candidates receive access to a fair and reliable assessment. The nature of the arrangements depend largely upon the license that is being followed, the individual's assessment requirements and the availability of qualified assessors within the company.

It is recognised that occasionally there may be candidates who require additional consideration with regards to the assessment. When this occurs advice should be sought from the IQA or AAM who may get advice from the IRSE if necessary.

If you are the Assessor you will:

- Prior to the assessment commencing ask candidates to make them aware of any special assessment requirements
- Agree any changes in assessment methods with candidates and IQA.

4.13 Management Review and Internal Audit

A review will be undertaken on an annual basis of the activities of PM Training and Assessing Ltd. This will be recorded as part of the Assessing Agency Meeting and will cover the following as a minimum:-

- Effectiveness of Assessing Agency
- Any complaints received
- Appeals against decisions
- Any improvements required.

PM Training and Assessing Ltd will, on an annual basis, conduct an internal audit of the functions of the Assessing Agency, this will be against the latest version of the IRSE Assessing Agency Audit Checklist, which will be downloaded from the IRSE website.

5 PAYMENT TERMS FOR IRSE ASSESSMENTS

Payment Terms are strictly 30 days from the date we receive your assessment in the office, unless special arrangements have been made. If payment is not made within 90 days PM Training and Assessing Ltd reserve the right to apply a charge of 8% per annum, above the current base rate to any overdue payments. If payment is not made within 120 days the debt will be passed on to our debt collecting agency. In the event of non-payment the fees from the Companies Collection Agency, will be added to the outstanding account.

Assessment charges are applicable whether the candidate is found 'competent' or 'not yet competent'.

If the candidate fails to complete the assessment within the timeframe required then the candidate is personally liable to for the cost of the assessment up to that point.

No licences will be processed to the IRSE unless payment has been made or a company purchase order is in place.

A licence will not be issued if the candidate has not paid the assessors in full if s/he is paying them direct.

Going ahead with the assessment is proof that the candidate (and his/her company if applicable) accept these terms.

6 ASSESSMENT STRATEGY

6.1 Recruitment of Assessors

All assessors will be recruited in line with the Equality & Diversity Policy.

Assessors must have a nationally recognised assessor qualification and be up to date with current standards.

Assessors must prove occupational competence in the area of work they will be assessing, and show continuous professional development. This must be acceptable to the IRSE.

Assessors must provide a CV and certificates which will form the basis for a discussion with the appropriate technical mentor (TM). The TM will make a recommendation to the Assessing Agency Manager (AAM) who will have the final decision as to whether an assessor is appointed.

The IQA will take copies of the CV and certificates. These will be kept on file.

Trainee assessors must be registered for a nationally recognised assessor's award and actively working towards achievement. Assessors are expected to achieve their qualification within 12 months.

Assessors will agree and sign a contract with PM Training and Assessing Ltd.

6.2 Development of Assessors

Assessors will be supported by an Internal Quality Assurer (IQA) who is responsible for their development.

Each assessor must keep up to date with current IRSE requirements. The assessor and IQA will discuss their developmental needs at an informal meeting.

The IQA will keep assessors aware of training and development opportunities.

The IQA will have regular assessor meetings at which general development issues will be raised and particular development needs will be met through:

- standardisation (looking at and making judgements on other assessor's work, discussion of assessment experiences etc.)
- discussion on current practices

6.3 Monitoring of Assessors

Internal Quality Assurers are responsible for monitoring the quality of the assessments done by the assessors. This will be done in a number of ways:

1. Sampling of candidate's assessment paperwork – the IQA will sample one unit of every assessment for both the workplace and competence assessor. The IQA will check that the evidence meets the standards and that the paperwork has been filled in correctly. The IQA will fill in a monitoring sheet and feed this back to the assessor.

2. Observation & Professional Discussion of assessors:

- a. Trainee Assessors – will be monitored in line with the current national qualification they are working towards.
- b. New Assessors - will have an observation within the first 3 assessments completed.
- c. Experienced Assessors – will have an observation at least every 5 years.

If the IQA has any concerns about any assessor the IQA will do more discussions and observations as appropriate, to bring the assessor in line with the quality expected. A record will be kept in the assessors file.

3. Standardisation meetings – the IQA will hold regular standardisation meetings to review and discuss assessments. The IQA will facilitate the meeting and discussions.

7 CONFLICT OF INTEREST

7.1 Definition of Conflict of Interest

A conflict of interest is a situation in which an individual or organisation has competing interests or loyalties.

7.2 Examples of Conflict of Interest

Conflicts of interest can arise in a variety of circumstances in relation to awarding organisation activities. For example:

- The training delivery function and the awarding function rest within one organisation, and the functions are not strictly delineated.
- An individual has a position of authority in one organisation, which conflicts with their interest in another organisation.
- An individual has personal interests that conflict with their professional position.
- An individual is carrying out work for PM Training & Assessing Ltd and has friends or relatives undertaking a qualification with us.
- A conflict between the official responsibilities of a Trainer/ Assessor/ IQA and any of their other interests, which could compromise, or appear to compromise, their decisions
- A person who is connected to the development, delivery or awarding of qualifications by the organisation has interests in any other activity that has the potential to lead that person to act contrary to their interests in development, delivery or awarding in accordance with the awarding organisation's conditions of recognition.
- A person assessing a close relative, i.e., a parent, grandparent, aunt, uncle, child, sibling, spouse, or partner.
- An informed and reasonable observer would conclude that any of the above situations is a conflict of interest.

This is not an exhaustive list, and staff/ contractors should contact the AAM to find out if a particular situation is deemed a conflict of interest or not.

7.3 Roles & Responsibilities

Staff and contractors undertaking roles for IRSE assessments on behalf of PM Training & Assessing Ltd must be free from conflicts of interest that could negatively affect their judgment or objectivity towards the organisation when performing business activities and assignments.

PM Training and Assessing Ltd recognises that assessors and IQAs may be involved in other activities outside of their roles with us; however, any potential conflict of interest arising from those activities must be acknowledged, disclosed, and, where relevant, properly managed.

All relevant staff involved in roles where there is a possibility of conflict of interest have the duty to declare any actual or potential conflicts of interest to the AAM.

Once a conflict is declared to the AAM, it is the AMM's responsibility to assess the information and determine if further action is needed. If necessary, the AAM should implement measures to mitigate the conflict of interest.

8 IQA STRATEGY

8.1 Management of Quality Systems

It is the Internal Quality Assurer's responsibility to ensure that the following systems are in place and are maintained to meet the awarding body's requirements.

Records of all assessors, Internal Quality Assurers and other staff involved in the assessment process and their qualifications.

Lists of candidates and assessors.

Progress and achievement of candidates.

Monitoring of assessors including assessor meetings, standardisation meetings, assessment paperwork sampling and observation of assessors.

8.2 Recruitment of IQAs

All IQAs will be recruited in line with the Equality & Diversity Policy.

IQAs must have a nationally recognised IQA / IV qualification and be up to date with current standards.

IQAs must prove to the Assessing Agency Manager (AAM) that they have a good knowledge of the area of work they will be quality assuring. This must be acceptable to the IRSE and evidenced in the same way as assessors.

The AAM will check the authenticity of certificates and take copies of the CV and certificates. These will be kept on file.

Trainee IQAs must be registered for a nationally recognised IQA award and be actively working towards achievement. IQAs are expected to achieve their qualification within 18 months.

8.3 Development of IQAs

IQAs will be supported by the AAM who is responsible for their development.

Each IQA must keep up to date with current IRSE requirements. The AAM and IQA(s) will discuss their developmental needs at an informal meeting.

The AAM will keep IQAs aware of training and development opportunities.

The AAM will have regular meetings at which general development issues will be raised and particular development needs will be met through:

- standardisation (looking at and making judgements on assessor's work, discussion of assessment experiences etc.)
- discussion on current practices

8.4 Support for Assessors

The following support will be made available by the IQA for the assessors.

- Regular assessor meetings
- Regular standardisation meetings
- One to one meetings where appropriate
- On going e-mail and telephone support

The AAM will support the IQAs in the same way.

8.5 IQA Procedure

The Internal Quality Assurer shall review the completed documentation covering both Workplace and Competence Assessment for a sample of the assessments undertaken based on a sampling plan dependent on the quality of assessments carried out by each assessor. They shall also witness a sample of assessments.

Where an assessor has not been observed carrying out an assessment to the standard set by the TAQA Level 3 award in assessing competence in the work environment, or equivalent, within the last five years, the next assessment carried out by that assessor must be observed.

Internal Quality Assurers shall be certificated to the TAQA Level 4 Award in the Internal Quality Assurance of Assessment Processes and Practice or equivalent qualification approved by the IRSE, and consistently work to, the TAQA Internal Quality Assurance standard while undertaking their role.

Internal Quality Assurers shall observe the assessments and review the assessment documentation of newly appointed assessors until they are satisfied those assessments are consistently being completed to the required standard.

Where necessary the Internal Quality Assurer shall arrange for a review of other assessments undertaken by the same assessor(s) and provide guidance on conducting assessments.

The Internal Quality Assurer shall compare the assessment decisions from different assessors for the same licence category for similar candidates and apply procedures to standardise assessment practice and outcomes by involving assessors in exercises to ensure the consistency of assessments.

The Internal Quality Assurer shall undertake the verification of those assessments sampled prior to their submission to the Licensing Registrar; however, if an assessment is found to be defective after a licence has been issued, the Internal Quality Assurer shall report the facts to the Assessing Agent's responsible manager and to the Licensing Registrar.

When an Assessor has not conducted any assessments in a particular licence category for five years, the Internal Quality Assurer shall be satisfied that the assessor concerned still has the competence and current experience to successfully assess candidates for that category.

An Internal Quality Assurer shall review the workplace and competence assessments for all applications that result in an appeal against the result of the formal assessment.

The Internal Quality Assurer shall document all IQA/IV activities including plans and the reports of those assessments subjected to IQA/IV; and these shall be available for audit purposes.

8.6 Monitoring of Assessors

Internal Quality Assurers are responsible for monitoring the quality of the assessments done by the assessors. This will be done in a number of ways:

1. Sampling of candidate's assessment paperwork – the IQA will sample one unit of every assessment for both the workplace and competence assessor. The IQA will check that the evidence meets the standards and that the paperwork has been filled in correctly. The IQA will fill in a monitoring sheet and feed this back to the assessor.
2. Observation & Professional Discussion of assessors:
 - a. Trainee Assessors – will be monitored in line with the current national qualification they are working towards.
 - b. New Assessors - will have an observation within the first 3 assessments completed.
 - c. Experienced Assessors – will have an observation at least every 5 years.If the IQA has any concerns about any assessor the IQA will do more discussions and observations as appropriate, to bring the assessor in line with the quality expected. A record will be kept in the assessors file.
3. Standardisation meetings – the IQA will hold regular standardisation meetings to review and discuss assessments. The IQA will facilitate the meeting and discussions.

9 COMPLAINTS & APPEALS

9.1 Complaints Against Licence Holders and Endorsements

Any person who has witness the work of a licence holder can make a complaint about the licence holder. An endorsement can only be issued by the IRSE after an investigation has taken place and the evidence considered by the IRSE licensing committee. For details of this procedure see IRSE Licensing Procedure LP04 'Complaints' which provides detailed information on how complaints against licence holders are managed. This is available on the IRSE Licensing web site.

Complaints about the work or conduct of a Licence Holder must fall within the scope of the licensing scheme and may come from any source, e.g. infrastructure manager, employer, client, fellow employee. The complaint shall be made in writing to the Licensing Scheme, normally by use of the form on the Licensing Scheme website and shall contain at least sufficient information to enable an initial evaluation to be made. It is also expected that, where possible, the Licence Holder will be informed directly by the complainant, that a complaint is being made, and of its nature.

9.2 Appeals Against Assessment Decisions

A candidate has the right to appeal when they consider they have been unfairly treated either by;

- the result of workplace or competence assessment
- the withholding of access to an assessment

Initially, all appeals must be made to the AAM, in writing, within ten days of the assessment decision. The AAM will then investigate within thirty days of the appeal being lodged.

The AAM will also nominate the Appeal Panel members. The nature of the appeal will determine the most appropriate individuals to be involved. Typically a panel would consist of the AAM, and either some, or all, of the following, an independent workplace assessor, independent competence assessor and the relevant Technical Mentor.

If this appeal is rejected then the candidate may appeal to the IRSE Licensing Committee, but only if all efforts by PM Training and Assessing to resolve the situation have been exhausted.

In the event of a continuing "failure to agree", a candidate has the right to appeal to the Institute within the timescales set out in IRSE Licensing Procedure No4; Complaints and Appeals, in the following circumstances:

- refusal to issue a licence or licence category by the IRSE Licensing Committee,
- withdrawal of a licence or licence category by the IRSE Licensing Committee,
- revocation of a licence or licence category by the IRSE Licensing Committee, and
- the dismissal of an appeal by the PM Training and Assessing Ltd AAM.

Copies of the IRSE Licensing Procedure No4; Complaints and Appeals can be found at <https://www.irse.org>. The IRSE is a Nominated Body of the Engineering Council. Therefore any person whose grievance is not resolved by appeal to the Institution Council may appeal to the Engineering Council in accordance with Article 17.5 of the IRSE's Articles of Association.

9.3 Complaints Against the PMT Training & Assessing Ltd IRSE Assessing Agency (Stakeholder Complaints)

A candidate has the right to make a complaint about the Assessing Agency.

A candidate can complain to the AAM in the first instance and if they feel that this has not adequately been answered then this should be escalated to the IRSE Licensing Registrar who will conduct an investigation.

The IRSE Licensing Registrar shall conduct an investigation and this will be brought before the Licensing Committee who will decide what action, if any, will be taken.
